DEPARTMENT OF FAMILY MEDICINE CAREER PATH FRAMEWORK

Whether you're a family physician, physician assistant or a health professional who engages in academic pursuits, the Department of Family Medicine supports its members in different ways that consider practice environment, skills, experience and career aspirations.

In our department, faculty are generally appointed and promoted in one of three streams: Clinical teacher stream | Professorial stream | Instructor stream

CLINICAL TEACHER STREAM

Family physicians and physician assistants whose role is focused on teaching in the clinical setting and classroom can be appointed as clinical teachers.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

Position Appointments

Most appointments in the department of family medicine are for a five-year duration.

Appointment Renewals

Renewals of appointment for instructors and clinical teachers are based on satisfactory teaching performance as exemplified by positive feedback/evaluations from learners.

Renewals of appointment for faculty in the professorial stream are based on a performance appraisal process that aims to support them in their personal and professional development across their multiple roles: clinical, teaching, scholar and leadership roles.

Promotions

The university encourages professional development and career advancement. For more information on the promotion process, visit umanitoba.ca/faculties/health_sciences/ medicine/units/family_medicine/staff/promotion-and-tenure.html

Career Changes

The university recognizes that over time an individual's role and/or career aspirations may change. To reflect this, a faculty member's appointment stream may be modified (i.e. move from an appointment in the clinical teacher stream to one in the professorial stream).
